Introduction

Health, according to the World Health Organization is a state of complete Physical, mental and social well-being and the not merely the absence of disease and infirmity.

A variety of definitions has been used for different purposes over time. Health can be promoted by encouraging healthful activities, such as regular physical exercise and adequate sleep, and by reducing or avoiding unhealthy activities or situations, such as Smoking or excessive Stress.

Health is a state characterized by anatomical, physiological, and psychological integrity; ability to perform personally valued family, work, and community roles; ability to deal with physical, biological, psycholo-

Physical and Social Stress

Mental health

The World Health Organization describes mental health as a state of well-being in which the individual realizes his or her own abilities, can cope with the normal stresses of life, can work productively and fruitfully, and is able to make a contribution to his/her community.

Achieving and maintaining health is an ongoing process, shaped by both the evolution of health care knowledge and practices as well as personal strategies and organized interventions for staying healthy.

Diet

An important way to maintain one's personal health is to have a healthy diet.

A healthy diet includes a variety of plant-based and animal-based foods that provide nutrients to the body. Such nutrients provide the body with energy and keep it running.

Nutrients help build and strengthen bones, muscles, and tendons and also regulate body processes (i.e. blood pressure) Water is essential for growth, reproduction and good health.

Macronutrients are consumed in relatively large quantities and include proteins, carbohydrates, and fats and fatty acids. Minonutrients - vitamins and minerals - are consumed in relatively small quantities, but are essential to body processes.

Making healthy food choices can lower one's risk of heart disease and the risk of developing some type of Cancer, and can help one maintain the weight within a healthy range.

Exercise

Physical exercise enhances or maintains physical fitness and overall health and wellness. It strengthens one's bones and muscles and improves the Cardiovascular System.

Physical exercise can reduce the risk of heart disease, Cancer, type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure, obesity, depression, and anxiety.

Sleep

Sleep is an essential component to maintaining health.

Insufficient sleep may also play a role in weight gain or, conversely, in impeding weight loss. Additionally, in 2007, the International Agency for Research on Cancer, which is the cancer involves circadian disruption is probably carcinogenic to humans.

Hygiene

Hygiene is a series of practices performed to preserve health.

According to the World Health Organization (WHO) hygiene refers to conditions and practices that help to maintain health and prevent the spread of disease.

Personal hygiene refers to maintaining the body's cleanliness.

Hygiene activities can be grouped into the following: home and everyday hygiene, personal hygiene, medical hygiene, sleep hygiene and food hygiene.

Home and every day hygiene includes hand washing, respiratory hygiene, food hygiene at home, hygiene in the kitchen, hygiene in the bathroom, and medical hygiene at home.

Hand Washing

Hand Washing (or handwashing) also known as hand hygiene, is the act of cleaning one's hands with Soap or hand wash and water to remove viruses/bacteria/microorganisms, dirt, or other harmful and unwanted substances stuck to the hands.

Drying of the washed hands is part of the process as wet and moist hands are more easily recontaminated.

The World Health Organization (WHO) recommends washing hands for at least 20 seconds before and after certain activities.

Respiratory hygiene

Correct respiratory and hand hygiene when coughing and sneezing reduces the spread of pathogens particularly during the cold and flu season.

- Carry tissues and use them to catch coughs and sneezes, or sneeze into your ~~elbow~~ elbow
- Dispose of tissues as soon as possible

Hygiene in the kitchen, bathroom and toilet

Routine cleaning of hands, food, sites and surfaces (Such as toilet seats and flush handles, door and tap handles, work surfaces, bath and basin surfaces) in the kitchen, bathroom and toilet rooms reduces the spread of pathogens.

Medical hygiene at home

Medical hygiene pertains to the hygiene practices that prevents or minimizes diseases and the spreading of disease in relation to administering medical care to those who are infected or who are more risk "at risk" or infectious in the home

Antiseptics may be applied to cuts, wounds abrasions of the skin to prevent the entry of harmful bacteria that can cause sepsis

Chemical disinfectants are products that kill Pathogens. If the product is a disinfectant, the label on the product should say "Disinfectant" or "Kill pathogens." Some commercial products, e.g. bleach, even though they are technically disinfectants, say that they "kill pathogens."

The term sanitizer has been used to define substances that both clean and disinfect.

Personal hygiene

Personal hygiene involves those practices performed by an individual to care for one's bodily health and wellbeing through cleanliness.

JUNK

HEALTHY

Healthy foods vs Junk foods

Healthy food contains good fats and nutrients that are vital for your body. Healthy food items offer your body the strength and the capacity to fight against various diseases. Whereas junk food is a highly processed food and contains a high amount of calories. These foods are harmful to your health.

The difference between healthy and unhealthy foods often depends on their calorie and fat content. So, it is always better to know how to distinguish healthy foods from their healthier counterparts.

What Are the Benefits of Eating Healthy?

1. Healthy foods like fruits and vegetables are high in fiber. Fiber releases energy slowly and keeps our stomach full for a longer time. It keeps you from overeating. High-fiber foods also keep your gastrointestinal tract healthy, thus controlling your cholesterol and blood sugar levels.

2. The protein from lean meat and nuts improves your brain function. The antioxidants and nutrients in fruits and fresh veggies can influence the hormones responsible for mental health. Try to take foods rich in omega-3 fats that can influence your brain health and mental well-being. They hold all the nutrients intact, unlike fried foods which drain the essential nutrients.

3. Healthy food is not processed. Hence, it is low in calories and rich in essential nutrients, it provides your body with exactly what it needs to maintain good health. Having fruits, veggies, nuts, milk, seeds, beans, sprouts, pulses, and millets will give you good nutrition.

4. Healthy food is the one which gives you balance along with satiety, and can help control your weight. If you are overweight or obese, consult a doctor or a nutritionist at the earliest and strictly follow a high fiber diet.

5. A daily diet of healthy and nutritional food will also promote your heart health. It helps regulate your cholesterol, blood sugar, and blood pressure levels.

6. Foods high in fat and sugar can cause dry skin and dull hair.

Nutrient-rich foods can give you a youthful appearance. There are some foods that are bad for your health.

Foods That Are Bad for Our Health

- Soft drinks: Consumption of soft drinks with high sugar content could cause type 2 diabetes, obesity, and dental erosion.
- Sugary drinks are harmful to your health. There is a rising prevalence of obesity, mainly in children, with soft drink consumption. The high fructose concentration in sugary beverages leads to nonalcoholic fatty liver disease.
- Added sugar is associated with cardiovascular disease.

French fries: These fried foods are high in calories too. Deep-fried potato foods contain large amount of acrylamides. Acrylamide is a proven carcinogen in rodents and has a positive association with human cancer.

Pizzas: Regular consumption of these types of foods is linked with heart problems and obesity.

Pastries: Pastries are one of the favourite baked items for many. They are sweet and tasty but contain many preservatives and no essential nutrients.

Sandwiches: Sandwiches are high-fat breakfast items that have a negative impact on your heart.

Burgers: Burgers are high in cholesterol, saturated fat, and salts. The high sodium content in burgers can elevate blood pressure.

This condition may also lead to stroke and kidney diseases.

Processed Meat: Processed meat intake is linked with colon cancer. It can also be linked to coronary heart disease, diabetes, and stroke.

The secret to a healthy body is a balanced diet.

We should reduce the risk of long-term health issues by replacing junk food with fresh produce.

5 Healthiest foods Nuts, berries, kale, spinach, broccoli, are a few of the healthiest foods known us today.

SOIL

Save Soil

Soil, also commonly referred to as earth or dirt, is a mixture of organic matter, minerals, gases, liquids and organisms that together support life. The term pedolith, used commonly to refer to the soil, translates to ground stone in the sense fundamental stone, from the ancient greek word meaning ground, 'earth'.

Soil consists of a solid phase of minerals and organic matter, as well as porous phase that holds gases and water. Accordingly, soil is a three-state system of solids, liquid and gas. Soil is a product of several factors: the influence of climate, relief organisms, and the soil's parent materials, interacting over time. It continually undergoes development by way of numerous physical, chemical and biological processes, which include weathering with erosion. Over its complexity and strong internal connectedness, soil ecologists regard soil as an ecosystem.

Save Earth

Taking care of the Earth is not just a responsibility, it's a necessity.

1. Conserve Water: - The little things can make a big difference. Every time you turn off the water while you're brushing your teeth, you're doing something good.
2. Be Car-Conscious: - If you can, stay off the road two days a week or more. You'll reduce greenhouse gas emissions by an average of 1,590 pounds per year but being car conscious also means maintaining your car on a regular basis.
3. Walk, Bike or Take Public Transit: - Walking & biking are obvious ways to reduce greenhouse gases.
4. Reuse, Recycle: - But you can also take reusable bags to the grocery, and avoid using disposable plates, spoons, glass, cups and napkins.
5. Give Composting a Try: - It would help reduce the amount of solid waste you produce, and what eventually winds up in your local landfill. Plus, compost makes a great natural fertilizer.

Save trees

They prevent pollutants from flowing into water bodies. The only way we can defend global water and environmental pollution is by saving and planting trees.

1. Saving Trees around us:- Every downy city has trees dictating which tree species need to be protected and when and how it's ok to cut down trees. In some cases, trees that are delicate, rare or extremely beneficial are protected by law.

2. What we can do to save the tree:- We should speak up to save the trees rather than just letting it get cut down. We should have get together with other people who care about saving trees in your area and make it clear that you object to cutting down healthy trees.

3. Participate in tree plantations:- As imp as it is to protect mature trees, it's also essential to think ahead and plant new trees that will eventually get tall enough to contribute to the canopy, clean the area air and help keep temperature cool.

4. Reduce paper use:-

Reducing our use of paper products in order to save trees.

We should use reusable containers instead of paper lunch bags.

PACK 2

No Plastic

We all have to do something concrete to reduce the amount of plastic that is invading our planet.

1. Drink tap water or buy glass bottles

If the tap water taste good and it's drinkable, you shouldn't buy liters and liters of water in disposable bottles. Not only we can save up money, but also we produce less plastic waste.

2. Avoid plastic bag

Instead, we should use cloth and cotton bags, rigid bags that you can reuse.

3. Travel with your water bottle

Travelling, cycling, running and doing sports requires lots of water to drink in order to compensate for the liquids you lose.

4. Get yourself a travel kit.

We'll be able to eliminate a large amount of plastic that we usually use when we are outside.

5. Pick up alternative straws

If using straws for drinking is a habit, avoid plastic straws and use those made of glass, paper, bamboo or steel.

6. Use fabric napkins and handkerchiefs

The paper handkerchiefs are packed in plastic bags. So use napkins & handkerchiefs from paper or fabric cases.

SAVE WATER

LIFE IS NONEXISTENT WITHOUT THIS PRECIOUS RESOURCE.

www.yourwebsitename.com

Save Water

97.5% of the World's Water is blocked in Seas and oceans, too salty for human use. And most of the remaining 2.5% is in the ice caps.

So we humans depend on the tiny bit available as fresh water - an essential natural resource for life.

But we don't just use water for drinking. We wash in it, clean with it, and use it to produce everything from clothing to food. Crop production - including feed for livestock and biofuels - is putting a great strain on fresh water supplies.

Water efficiency is the practice of reducing water wastage by measuring the amount of water required for a particular purpose and the amount of water used for delivered. Water efficiency differs from water conservation in that it focuses on reducing waste, not restricting use.

Waste Segregation dry & Wet Waste.

In Simple words, Waste segregation refers to the practice of separating wet waste from dry waste.

Why should we segregate waste?

India generates 62 million tonnes (MT) of waste every year, and only 43 MT is collected. Of the collected waste, close to 31 MT is dumped on landfill sites or water bodies and only 11.9 MT is scientifically treated.

4 Ways to segregate waste in apartments.

1. Wet/Kitchen Waste: This comprises of items like fruit peels, leftovers, vegetables skins, uncooked food, coffee or tea powder, and garden waste like leaves and twigs.

2. Dry Waste: Dry waste is divided into recyclable and non-recyclable waste. Items like used paper, towel, hazardous chemical or food containers, foam materials, and dishware etc...

3. Sanitary Waste: Diapers, synthetic sanitary napkins, hygiene-related products, condoms, tampons, soiled napkins, are classified as Sanitary Waste.

4. E-Waste: Electronic waste or e-waste describes discarded electrical or electronic devices. Used electronics which are destined for refurbishment, reuse, resale, salvage recycling through material recovery.
